MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Nefesh Community Members,

We welcome you to the 23rd Annual NEFESH Conference and are excited to offer you an extraordinary experience of spiritual, intellectual and professional growth.

You will have no “buyer’s remorse” as we are confident that our conference is filled with opportunities to engage in challenging dialogue, hear thought provoking presentations, increase your skills, and create new relationships. We trust that your time at this conference will give you the connection to something larger than you expected.

We are also pleased to announce that NEFESH International recently hit a first time high of 850+ members and we are now the largest and most active since our inception in 1992.

We live in a world where it is increasingly easier to get through the day without actually talking with another person. Our world though - the world of the mental health professional - focuses on devotion to others as we live and breathe communication and relationships, including relationship to self. We therefore require support in unique areas for self-care, emotional acuity and compassion fatigue. This conference offers such and is designed to have something for everyone.

Hold on for the ride as you work the NEFESH network and continue your journey as an evolving Orthodox mental health professional.

Miriam Turk, LCSW

Executive Director, NEFESH International

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues,

It has been a privilege to serve as president of Nefesh over this past year.

Being at the NEFESH conference is a highlight of the year and Shabbos at NEFESH to me is an expression of הנה מה טוב ומה נעים שבת אחים גם יחד.

We live in a world of tremendous division and strife. The Jewish world has its divisions as well. In a world where people have stopped talking to friends and relatives due to different opinions or belief in what is “right”, we come together as observant Jews from across the spectrum, learning, davening, singing and sharing together. The respect we show one another is what makes NEFESH unique and what makes me proud to be a member.

Please enjoy your time together and appreciate what a special group of people you are part of.

Our ability to show respect to each other professionally and religiously is an example of what Jewish life should be. We need to be leaders in the message of respect and tolerance for all 70 faces of Torah throughout our communities.

Welcome to the conference and Shabbat Shalom,

DINING AND HOTEL INFORMATION

THURSDAY NETWORKING LUNCH

The seating plan for Thursday lunch is designed to meet the needs of those who wish to sit with old friends, new colleagues or meet people with shared interests. To facilitate this, outside of the tearoom (Terrace Ballroom) and Dining Room you will find signs indicating discussion topics for each individual table (by table number). Find the topic or population of people you would like to sit with, take note of the table number and sit accordingly.

FRIDAY NIGHT DINNER

There will be a candle lighting table available.

Seating for the Friday night dinner is organized as follows:

- Buckets holding table number cards will be placed next to the candle lighting table beginning at 4pm on Friday afternoon.
- Each bucket will contain the number of cards equivalent to the number of seats at each table.
- The tables are all the same - they are not organized by topic or population.
- Please take a numbered card for yourself and others with whom you wish to seat.
- Important: please distribute the cards to your table-mates as soon as possible and/or advise them that you have chosen for them. This will prevent individuals from having more than one card each, and thus ensure that everyone has one.

SHABBOS KEY INSTRUCTIONS

To enter guest rooms, electronic key cards are required. Therefore, on Shabbos we have arranged for security guards to open all rooms with a master key. The guards will rotate among the floors from 5pm until 1am on Friday night and from 8am to 6pm on Shabbos. If you need immediate access to your room and do not see a guard, please go to the front desk in the hotel lobby.

Competency Guidelines

NEFESH International regards the conduct of psychotherapy as a responsibility with serious, professional and ethical obligations to the client. This responsibility should always be uppermost in the mind of the therapist, as he/she seeks to offer the best service he can to his client.

In an effort to improve the quality of mental health services provided to the Torah community, the Board of Directors of NEFESH International has set forth the following recommended standards for practitioners beginning a private practice in mental health services.

EDUCATION

The beginning private practitioner should have – at minimum – a masters level graduate degree in a clinical mental health field from an accredited school.

Continuing education and training are essential for maintaining and increasing competence in the provision of mental health services. It is therefore expected that the practitioner will be actively engaged in these activities.

LICENSURE

The therapist should be licensed in the state in which services are offered. This license should permit independent practice on the part of the practitioner. For example, a social worker should be licensed as an LCSW; a mental health counselor, as an LMHC.

Psychiatrists should be licensed in the state in which services are offered.

INSURANCE

The therapist should hold a professional liability insurance policy to protect his client and him/herself.

EXPERIENCE

The amount of prior clinical experience required to conduct a private practice should be dictated by the extent of graduate education.

Masters level clinicians (e.g. MA, LMSW, LMHC's, and LPC's) should have completed 5 years of 30 hrs/wk of clinical work. Psychologists with doctoral degrees (e.g., Ph.D. or Psy.D.) should have 3 years post licensure of 30 hrs/wk of clinical work doing psychotherapy.

Psychiatrists should have completed a residency program accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education in the field of psychiatry.

SUPERVISION

The clinician should have ongoing, individual, clinical supervision for at least 10 years into her/his practice by a licensed clinician with extensive experience. There is no substitute for individual supervision and no one who does not need it. In fact, ongoing supervision should continue throughout one's career at a level appropriate to experience and competence.

COMPETENCE

The heavy responsibility carried by the mental health professional requires that services be provided within the boundaries of her/his competence, based on his/her education, training, supervised experience, and study. The practitioner should avoid false self-confidence and hubris by being aware of her/his own limitations. When a clinical presentation exceeds the bounds of his/her competence, the ethical therapist should refer to another professional whom the therapist knows to be competent in the problem area at issue. In case of doubt, collegial consultation is strongly encouraged.

A professional's level and area of competence must never be misrepresented.

PERSONAL PSYCHOTHERAPY

A professional's own course of psychotherapy is invaluable in the acquisition of skill, crucial insight into her/himself, and an understanding of the client's experience.

RABBINIC CONSULTATION

Every therapist should have a rav with whom he/she feels comfortable consulting concerning halachic issues.

At Touro, our supportive faculty train mental health counselors to help people struggling with trauma, as well as depression, anxiety, postpartum depression, eating disorders, family or marital discord, substance abuse and more.
